Robert Guilliams (Badge #235) was responding to an accident on I-55. He lost control of his patrol car on a rain-soaked highway and died in the crash in 2001. Corp. John "Jay" Sampietro Jr. (Badge #584) was also an MSHP pilot. He loved hanging out with the Air Evac pilots and talking "aviation." Jay transferred from Troop E to Troop D (Springfield). Shortly afterward, he was struck by a car while directing traffic around another fatal crash. We lost a friend in 2005. In 2022, Troop E built a memorial to their fallen troopers. It reads: "An Angel in the sky must leave his place of rest, gently tucking his wings beneath his armored vest. For duty has called, there is much work to do. Little did he know, this one is dressed in blue. Arriving on the scene, he knows just what to say, "Follow me, fallen brother, I'll show you the way. Your duty has ended, your work is now through. Come hang your hat beside mine, I'm a Trooper too." The Poplar Bluff Museum also honors our fallen "Angels" in the First Responders Exhibit. Troop E has a special exhibit upstairs remembering the past and present "Highwaymen." Hats off and salute to our boys in blue. The museum is open free of charge and handicap accessible. It is open 1-4 p.m. Sundays at 1010 Main St. Tell them Mike sent you. Note: As a former Air Evac Lifeteam helicopter pilot, I know what chaos looks like on an accident scene. When I saw the boys in blue with their flat hats, I always knew that it was safe to land. My apologies to all the troopers that had to eat my rotor wash dust and chase their hats across the field. Mike Shane is a veteran, Poplar Bluff resident and board member for the Poplar Bluff Museum. POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (KFVS) - Fallen Missouri State Highway Patrol troopers were honored at a ceremony in Poplar Bluff on Tuesday, October 25. The morning service at the Fellowship General Baptist Church served as a dedication for a new memorial at the Troop E Headquarters. The memorial is a tribute to four state troopers from the southeast Missouri area who've died in the line of duty since 1931. The monument became a reality through donations and community support. "It's certainly a stressful job, you see in the news all the time, the issues we're faced with," Captain Phil Gregory, MSHP Troop E commander, said. "So any way that we can give back to the families who have made the ultimate sacrifice, is what we want, we want to do, is outstanding." Families of two of the fallen state troopers were at Tuesday's ceremony. Copyright 2022 KFVS. All rights reserved.
