Have you ever considered: Are you a power sign? Undeniably, each zodiac sign is powerful in their own way, but in this article, we're going to narrow down what the most powerful zodiac signs are and what aren't. Where do you fall on the list of the most powerful zodiac signs? How can you play into your power? Let's find out! Read next: How You Can Guess Someone's Zodiac Sign What Are the Most Powerful Zodiac Signs? The most powerful signs dominate a single room. They walk into the party, and everyone is looking at them. Not only that but you kind of want to get to know them yet are also scared to at the same time (you feel me here?). These signs further have self-control and influence down pat. They offer a "seriously-don't-mess-with-me" kind of vibes, along with the kind of aura where you desperately want them on your team. So, are you one of these unique and powerful zodiac signs? 1. Leo The lion is already the "king (or queen) of the jungle." Thus, it probably comes as no surprise that Leo is ultra-powerful in more than a few ways. Ruled by the Sun, Leo is very in-touch and confident with their sense of self. That is because the Sun represents the Self. Leos also tend to be super extroverted, quickly taking control of a crowd and demanding attention. Just like the Sun is the center of the solar system, Leo is the center of attention in most environments. Leo may also firmly believe they know what's best. But don't let this fool you; they also are very much inclined to take care of their own! Where else does Leo rank? Read: Are You the Best Zodiac Sign to Date (Or the Worst?)! 2. Scorpio A Scorpio is an intense creature to reckon with. They are independent and strong, and you are more or less than likely to get stung if you end up on their bad side. Scorpio's planetary rulers include Mars and Pluto, which further accentuates Scorpio's undeniable ambition and leadership traits. Where Mars rules ambition and passion, Pluto rules power itself. So, it's no surprise that Scorpio made it to the top of the list of power zodiac signs. 3. Aries This Fire sign sure knows how to light up a room. However, Aries fails to take the top two spots here, in part, due to their ruling planet Mars. Mars signifies war and power. Yet, the war portion of this can stand in the way of Aries truly rising up above. The main problem? Aries lacks satisfaction and always wants more. This can lead to some questionable decisions and very reckless behavior. Thus, while powerful, Aries has to tread lightly to avoid the pitfalls of their power. 4. Capricorn Don't mess with a Capricorn. This Earth sign is ruthless at going after what they want. The planetary ruler of Capricorn is Saturn—ruler of determination, will, and time. While the Sun rules over the planets, it is Saturn who keeps a watchful eye on everything. So with its ruling planet, it comes as no surprise this powerful zodiac sign has undeniably determination and is willing to put in the work to get to where they want to be. As a leader, Capricorn's flourish. They truly "see" people and are frequently viewed as figures of authority. 5. Taurus As a Taurus, you go after what you want. Determined and stubborn, this Earth sign has got the power to lead and get stuff done. The zodiac is symbolically represented by the bull, and to put it bluntly, this sign knows how to take the bull by its horns and get their way. 6. Sagittarius The Sagittarius sign is emotionally strong, holding up even in the direst of circumstances. As a Fire sign, you might think of a Sagittarius as the complete opposite. However, they become a pillar of sorts when times are tough. They are determined to persevere. So while you might not see this sign as the most gregarious or attention-inducing as, say Leo or Scorpio, it's pretty incredible what this sign is capable of with their emotional power! 7. Virgo/Virgo ranks here because its ruling planet, Mercury, does offer this sign one super-powerful trait: communication. Yet, a Virgo won't necessarily step into the spotlight with this superpower. Rather, they will process and internalize. Unfortunately, this means they can't demand others' ideas and opinions get into their head, making them somewhat weaker than other signs! 8. Libra As a soft, gentle, and caring sign, Libras don't exactly ooze power. Yet, remember, power isn't everything! While Libras steer clear of conflict usually and have difficulty making decisions, this Air sign is also very balanced. At the same time, they don't let others' ideas and opinions get to do. 9. Aquarius Another Air sign, Aquarius can be a bit all over the place. From one day to the next, you might get a completely different person. They can be determined and motivated one day and then completely aloof and distracted another. With big dreams, Aquarius also has trouble following through. Thus, their true power is their unwavering faith in an optimistic outcome. 10. Cancer The thing about Cancer is that they are often listed as emotional beings. Yet, they could be great leaders and allude to great power. The real issue? They'd rather not be. Sensitive and compassionate, this zodiac sign is ruled by the Moon, making this Water sign super in-tune with feelings, empathy, emotions, and comfort. Read next: Are You a Stereotypical Cancer? Check Out These 8 Shocking Myths About This Zodiac Sign! 11. Gemini With Mercury as its ruling planet, Gemini is very communicative and outgoing. Yet, they often are plagued by indecisiveness and other wishy-washy traits that tend to get the best of them. Thus, their lack of being able to stick to that one thing takes away their power. At the same time, a Gemini's versatility is their true power (and nothing to be ashamed of)! 12. Pisces Pisces are posed as "great escape artists." While very artistic, this sign tends to lose itself to their artistic endeavors and creations. And this makes further sense when you realize Pisces' ruling planet is Neptune, which stands for illusions and confusion. All in all, this escape to whole other worlds makes Pisces the weakest emotional sign and the least powerful zodiac sign. Can You Improve Your Power? Always! Look at the positive and negative traits of your zodiac sign. What are your pitfalls? How can you improve them? At the same time, remember: power is entirely subjective. While the above list outlines the most powerful zodiac signs and the least powerful zodiac signs, your strength is your true power. Each zodiac sign dominates in different arenas. So, don't let this list beat you down or build you up too much. There's always more than what meets the eye! Related article: Are You the Best Zodiac Sign to Date (Or the Worst?)! Have you ever heard of the astrology Vertex? If you've been looking into spiritual astrology or anything with compatibility, you probably have since that's generally what the Vertex connects to. The Vertex also has an exactly opposite position called the Anti-Vertex. It exactly opposes the Vertex in the zodiac, making this an axis in astrology. The Astrological Vertex is a position that some astrologers swear by, and others barely pay attention to. It's not a physical body and is instead the point where the ecliptic and prime vertical intersect. In case you have no clue what those words mean, the ecliptic is essentially the Earth's orbit around the Sun. The prime vertical is the circle passing east and west through the zenith and nadir of a location. The west spot is the Vertex while the east spot is the Anti-Vertex. I absolutely recommend using an online calculator to calculate your Vertex location (it's way too difficult for anyone who isn't an astrologer or mathematician to do by hand, and luckily there are plenty of free calculators online that will calculate your Vertex for you). While there are many different uses for the Vertex, it's most commonly used to find specific fated encounters and events. The Vertex is usually located in the 5th, 6th, 7th, or 8th houses in your birth chart (the axis can be closer to your Imum Coeli and Midheaven if you were born in tropical latitudes). This part of your chart connects to others, so the Vertex is sometimes seen as a second Descendant. In the astrological houses, your Vertex means different things: In the 5th house, you may be fated to fall in love fast and be big on romance. In the 6th house, you may be fated to be of service to others. In the 7th house, you may be fated to prioritize relationships and be in the middle. In the 8th house, you may be fated to transform via a love and be passionate. The zodiac sign location of your astrology Vertex tends to be more important than the house though. Your sensitivity can mean you're extra compassionate and understanding with others, and you may be destined to quietly take care of those who can't take care of themselves. Check out: Does Your Fate Change With Your Palm Lines? The Astrology Vertex in Relationship & Predictive Astrology The Vertex seems to actually have greater importance in relationship astrology and in predictive astrology. In relationship astrology, you may find that you experience what feels like fated connections with people who connect to your natal Vertex. In synastry, the Vertex is considered almost like a part of the Primal Triad (Sun, Moon, Ascendant), and you can see connections with people who have a natal planet conjunct your Vertex or Anti-Vertex. In the composite chart, the Vertex can be strong with those you have a fated connection with, often conjunct a composite planet, angle, or Lunar Nodes. The conjunctions do usually need to be close (under two degrees) because this isn't a physical body. It's not enough to just be in the same zodiac sign (it must be close!). Check this out: How to Uncover Your Perfect Soul Mate With a Synastry Chart Reading But you do need to remember something - "fated" doesn't equal "positive and healthy"! We're destined to meet many people and have many relationships that aren't good for us, so sometimes those connections aren't positive, but may have something to teach us. Don't have rose-colored glasses with the Vertex! Transits and progressions can trigger timing for encounters and events that feel fated. When a transit planet conjuncts your natal Vertex or Anti-Vertex, this can bring energy for something or someone fated. The Sun, Mercury, Venus, and Mars all move quickly and conjunct the houses of the zodiac every 2-4+ times each year, so it may not be a big deal when they conjunct unless it's paired with other transits. The Moon moves fastest and conjuncts both every month, but this only lasts for a few hours so it generally isn't enough to trigger anything unless other big astrology is present. It'll be a much bigger deal when its transit, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, or Pluto conjunct your Vertex or Anti-Vertex. Then it tends to be very strong! You'll want to focus on the energy of the transit planet involved and the sign your Vertex or Anti-Vertex is in - this can give clues as to how it happens or what it involves. Your progressed chart can also trigger with progressed planets or house cusps conjunct your natal Vertex, or with your progressed Vertex conjunct one of your natal planets. This can be as strong as when the slow transit planets are conjunct. Progressions can also be used with relationship astrology, and sometimes fated people will connect your progressed Vertex (or you with theirs). The astrology Vertex can be an interesting and fun position to play around with. You may be especially interested if any of the slow planets are conjuncting your Vertex or Anti-Vertex, or you have progressions in play, this year - pay attention! Have Fun Exploring Your Vertex! Good luck with those fated encounters! Related article: Do You Have Empty Houses in Your Birth Chart? Libras are our fair-minded, everyone-should-get-along diplomats with hearts of gold and style to be envied. Libras are associated with the 7th house of partnerships in the astrological birth chart, so it's no surprise that their main focus in life seems to be centered around getting along and creating meaningful partnerships. Looking for someone to make a great impression on your family? Look no further than charming Libra, who always knows what to say! Manners are of much importance to Libras as well, and they will go out of their way to not offend anyone, so even if you have a side argument, they will know how to put on a polite performance and not embarrass you in front of anyone. Libras want you to love them - and will sometimes go out of their way to make sure you do. These are definitely the people-pleasers of the zodiac! Libras are fabulous partners, and with enough patience, confidence, and appreciation, anyone who finds themselves in a relationship with one of these charming and intelligent creatures will be satisfied indeed. Libras work best over time with more self-confident partners who aren't prone to jealousy - they know their flirtatious Libra is just having some fun - and are ultimately happiest at home with them. Like the steady Earth sign Taurus, the harmony-seeking planet Venus rules over our lovely Air sign Libras. Creature comforts and luxury are desirable to the sign of the scales, so lavish gifts, pampering, and dinners out will go a long way toward winning their hearts. Libras can always see many outcomes, and it can be natural for them to remain optimistic, even in the face of negativity. Their Cardinal sign traits may also help here - they like to take action, start something, and initiate. This, combined with their desire to find harmony, almost ensures they will be perpetual cheerleaders, but even they are allowed to have a bad day once in a while. As their partner, it will be important to make sure you are taking as much notice of what's going on with them as they are for you. Let's take a look at the unique characteristics of the sign of the scales! Libra's positive traits include: Trusting and forgiving Adaptable and flexible Intelligent and emotionally intelligent Affectionate and feel more secure when in a relationship It's hard to annoy a Libra. Because they want to achieve an environment of peace and calm, they are more than willing to accept an apology if it's heartfelt. This should not be taken advantage of, though - they will eventually tire of people who prove they cannot be trusted. Part of Libra's intoxicating charm is their ability to make you feel like you're the only person in the room - and this is due to their innate ability to read the room and the people in it. Intellectual Libras have an uncanny way of knowing when things are "off," and this can be both a positive and a negative if you're in a relationship with them. Although Libras have a plethora of positive traits, unfortunately, they may also have these negative characteristics. Libras can be: Indecisive to a fault Co-dependent in relationships Appearing as two-faced Known to fall into - and out of - love Libras want everyone to get along, so when faced with too many choices, they want to carefully consider every possible outcome. This can make Libras seem wishy-washy or non-committal, but they may just need a little more time than everyone else. Also, due to their ability to consider many views and be non-offensive, they may tell you something slightly different than you heard it from where it is. Libra men are very flirtatious and can talk their way into - or out of - anything. Once you have established some ground rules and make it clear you want to keep it one-to-one, though, they can be highly loyal partners. A Libra man will be a sexy and charismatic partner, and he will pay attention to your needs as long as you don't take him wrong for them. The fellow Air signs - Mutable Gemini - are the most free-thinking, and Fixed sign Aquarius are more solid in their process, so they will both provide different perspectives for their Libra partner to consider. Fun-loving Fire signs Leo and Sagittarius are up for a good time and love to entertain as much as you do Libra! Sagittarius tends to see the world through a lens of optimism and will keep your spirits up while encouraging you to explore their open-minded side, especially in the bedroom! Leos are creative and generous, and while you could just end up in a never-ending compliment contest, the capacity to admire and hold each other in high regard will make this a very strong bond indeed. Libras should avoid being run over by a stronger-willed partner who tries to rush them into a decision they will live to regret - or at least question whether they did the right thing without having a chance to think it all through. Fellow Cardinal signs Aries, Cancer, and Capricorn may become competitive with Libra, wanting to lead the way themselves and getting frustrated when Libra doesn't immediately jump into the boat. Disciplined Capricorn and Virgo may tire of Libra's "wishy-washy" ways, and Libra may find it hard to connect with the more stoic Earth signs, who seem less inclined to care about the beauty in the world and more on tradition, routine, and hard work. Water sign Cancer's moodiness, sometimes passive-aggression, and tendency to be jealous will not float well with the more free-spirited Libra. Air signs are dreamy and thoughtful - so other zodiac signs who need a faster answer from Libra or who need decisions and ideas based on rationality and logic will not necessarily be a good match here. On the one hand, an "opposing" love match could prove challenging, but you could also learn a lot from each other here if you both have the patience and compromise to stick it out. Good listeners Generous Persuasive Need a lot of attention When his attention is on you, he's the most charming and romantic guy around. When it's not, though, you may wonder where it is. Libra men are very flirtatious and can talk their way into - or out of - anything. Once you have established some ground rules and make it clear you want to keep it one-to-one, though, they can be highly loyal partners. A Libra man will be a sexy and charismatic partner, and he will pay attention to your needs as long as you don't take him for granted! Libra men are chatterboxes - let them talk, and you will be on the road to winning their hearts. Good food and drink, a sultry atmosphere, and soothing music will also speak to this romantic at heart. Pleasure comes in many forms, and Libras are well known to indulge in many of them! Libra men and women may struggle with the balance between wanting to meet new people to test their charms and the side of them that deeply desires to make a meaningful and romantic connection. Learn more about the Libra Men personalities and more. Trusting Affectionate Demonstrate integrity Supportive Because Libra women are willing to go along and not rock the boat, drawing out their deeper desires may take some time. Libra women may need to be coaxed out of worrying about being a ray of sunshine and into sharing who they really are under their lovely exteriors. While all Libras have an eye for detail and need to keep a pleasant and beautiful home, the Libra women will take an especially keen interest in this area, aligning deeply with her connection to sensual Venus. This doesn't mean they like to do chores! Show them you appreciate their efforts by not destroying their hard work once in a while. Appearances are ultra important to all Librans, and Libra women in love are forced to be reckoned with. Well-spoken, well put together, and set to charm all who meet them, it can be difficult to resist their attention once it's set on you. Here is the person who can change the energy of the room when they enter it - and they have a particular way of making you feel like the most important person in the room. They can also be fierce, defending anyone - or anything - if they feel someone has been wronged. Learn more about Libra Women personalities and more. Your Aries partner will need patience with you - while you're dithering about what you want to do, they're already done! The brash impulsiveness of Aries can hurt your feelings; they're just who they are, so try not to take it personally. Aries is opposite Libra on the zodiac, and there's more than a little truth to the old saying that opposites attract! This has potential if they're willing to learn to be patient and you're willing to allow yourself to be a bit more impetuous. Learn more about the Libra and Aries love connection. You're very different - different elements, different qualities, but you're still going to have a lot of common ground because you're both ruled by Venus - the planet of love! Your tastes will be similar, and you're both romantics at heart. Watch that you don't overindulge each other, though. It will be easy for spending to get out of hand - and for you to gain weight, for that matter, because you both like to satisfy your appetites for all of the good things that life has to offer. You may have to put up with a bit of stubbornness from Taurus, though - while you're the social butterfly, Taurus might be a bit jealous of the attention that you get from others. Learn more about the Libra and Taurus love connection. You're both air elements, so that is going to give you some common ground and similar viewpoint things in many cases. You'll innately "get" each other - but that also means that you'll know exactly what buttons to push to infuriate each other, too. Yours is a relationship that is social and always on the go. Gemini's outgoing personality will intrigue you, while your charm and penchant for luxury will captivate Gemini into wanting to know more about you. If nothing else, you'll never get bored with each other! Learn more about the Libra and Gemini love connection. You both like peace and harmony, but you're going to go about it in different ways, which have the potential of creating discord rather than harmony! Cancer can be moody - and that's not going to work with you. You like to socialize, and they could be too clingy for that, which will come between you in the long run. You're going to have to learn patience and understand your Cancer partner's need for one-on-one time, while they're going to have to learn not to be so possessive when it comes to your attention and maybe even your affection. Learn more about the Libra and Cancer love connection. A relationship with Leo can be demanding. You both like attention, and you both love to be in love. The problems arise when you start looking at what you want to do, and they're already done! The brash impulsiveness of Aries can hurt your feelings; they're just who they are, so try not to take it personally. Aries is opposite Libra on the zodiac, and there's more than a little truth to the old saying that opposites attract! This has potential if they're willing to learn to be patient and you're willing to allow yourself to be a bit more impetuous. Learn more about the Libra and Leo love connection. You're as different as night and day, and this is going to be a hard relationship for both of you to navigate. You're a social butterfly, but Virgo likes what's familiar. You will be off and running on a whim, but careful Virgo likes to plan. You'll find Virgo's criticism hard to take, and they won't understand your indecision and lack of practicality. The only way that this is going to work is if you both take your patience pills and your tolerance tablets - otherwise, you'll find Virgo weighs you down, and they'll find you far too irresponsible. Learn more about the Libra and Virgo love connection. A relationship with another Libra is certainly going to have its share of ups and downs. You're going to be so much alike - and if you are on each other's good side, great! However, your Libra partner is going to reflect back to you the sides of your sign that you've not yet worked out how to master, and no one likes addressing their faults. You're either going to really get along and be inseparable, or this will fizzle out in a blaze of indifference before it even gets started. You'll both have to carry equal weight to make this work, which is appropriate, given that you're the sign of the scales. Learn more about the Libra love connection. If you fancy a Scorpio, then you'll have your work cut out for you. Scorpio doesn't do anything by halves, and the relationship is always going to be one-sided. Scorpio will dote on you, and that might attract and flatter you initially, but as the relationship deepens, it will start to feel restrictive. You'll start to find Scorpio's stubbornness annoying - and don't be surprised if the fun factor leaves too, for Scorpio may find your frivolity too infuriating. If this is going to work, you'll have to teach Scorpio how to lighten up a bit while learning how to be a bit more serious yourself. Learn more about the Libra and Scorpio love connection. There's definite potential here, provided that neither of you becomes too clingy. You'll be right there with Sagittarius's sense of adventure, and it will inspire you to follow your own dreams and desires. You'll have plenty to talk about, and you'll appreciate Sagittarius's gregarious nature. There's a lot of sexual chemistry here, too, as well as a whirlwind of social activities that you'll both enjoy. You'll just have to learn to keep up with Sagittarius without getting too moody about having your own needs met. Learn more about the Libra and Sagittarius love connection. There's not a whole lot of common ground here, and if you're going to last with your Cappy partner, you're going to have to be adaptable. You'll want to go out, and the old goat will want to stay home, and - as stubbornness is one of Capricorn's traits - there won't be much room for compromise. However, if you find the right balance between surrendering control and persuading Capricorn to try something new, you might find you're rewarded by a strong and steadfast partner on whom you can truly depend. Learn more about the Libra and Capricorn love connection. You're both Air signs, so that gets you off to a good start. You're more lighthearted than your Aquarian lover, though, and that takes some balancing. Aquarius is determined and very intense, and while that's intriguing at first, in the long run, it may grow to be oppressive for your free spirit. Neither of you is in a hurry to get tied down, which could create problems as the relationship develops. Once you're both in the groove, though, you'll have a harmonious relationship that brings a lot of understanding and compassion. Learn more about the Libra and Aquarius love connection. If ever there were two sentimental signs, it's you and Pisces! You're both sensitive to the needs of the other, want harmony between you, and have lots of plans for what you want to do together - and to each other! However, it's going to be up to you to make sure that those plans are not just all talk because Pisces does like that little flight of fancy. You'll have to put the foundations under the fantasies to make them manifest. This has a great chance of being romance at its finest, providing neither of you is too set in your ways or so caught up in your daydreams that a dream is all you have. Learn more about the Libra and Pisces love connection. When it comes to Libra's zodiac love compatibility, bear in mind not looking good on paper doesn't mean a match won't work out! When looking at the elements, Fire and Air signs tend to be more extroverted, while Earth and Water signs are more introverted. This can be very helpful in considering how people will get along in any kind of relationship, but it isn't restrictive! There are many more layers to astrology to consider, including the rest of someone's primal triad - their Moon sign and Rising sign. Having a birth chart done for both of you could definitely provide more insight into your compatibility.
